Ford Lowers Prices On All Autos and Tractors

Big Reductions in Prices On All of the Ford Products Says Company's Telegram

All Ford dealers on Tuesday received notice of a big reduction in the wholesale prices of Ford autos, trucks and tractors, to go into immediate effect. Below we publish a copy of the telegram received by Jas. P. Cogley, local dealer:

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 21, 1920. James P. Cogley, Yale, Mich.

Reduction in prices of Ford products. The war is over and war prices must go. Effective at once, Ford cars, trucks and tractors will be sold f. o. b. Detroit at the following prices:

Touring, regular, $440.
Touring, with starter, $510.
Runabout, regular, $395.
Runabout, with starter, $465.
Chassis, $360.
Coupe, with starter and demountable rims, $745.
Sedan, with starter and demountable rims, $795.
Truck, with pneumatic tires, $545.
Tractor, $790.

The Ford Motor Company make their reductions in the face of the fact that they have on hand immediate orders for one hundred forty-six thousand sixty-five cars and tractors. The company will suffer a temporary loss while using up the material bought at high prices. They are willing to make the sacrifice in order to bring business back to a going condition as quickly as possible and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country. Henry Ford says: "The war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interests of all it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to regular pre-war standards."

Signed, Ford Motor Company

Street preaching Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening, Sept. 23, 24 and 25, at 7:15, by Elder W. I. Fligg, of London, a lifetime student of Bible prophecies, of which many are being fulfilled right now and many yet to come to pass. Come and hear and judge for yourself. "Come now and let us reason together," is the invitation of God. The Apostle Paul said, "Prove all things and hold fast to that which is good, for it is a shame and a folly unto a man to judge a matter before he hearth it," sayeth the wise man Solomon.

"Resurrection and Eternal Judgment," are the subjects for Friday and Saturday nights at Auditorium, two very important subjects. Come one and all, Catholics and Protestants. All welcome. Seats free.

SEPTEMBER WEDDING

One of September's perfect days was given for the wedding of Donna Josephine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, and Rawley G. Hallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hallman.

On Wednesday, September 15th, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, the bride, gowned in a beautiful dress of dotted white net over white satin, and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses, came down the stairs of her home upon the arm of her father. Preceding her came the groom with his attendant, Roy Sweet, and following her the bridesmaid, Gladys Wallace, dressed in navy blue silk and carrying pink roses.

To the music of the wedding march, played by Clifford Hutton, the places were taken in the bay window of the living room which was made a veritable bower of loveliness with pink and white cosmos and ferns.

Rev. Alfred Martin performed the ceremony which united these two young people in holy matrimony, using the ring service, and the father gave the bride away.

The guests, most of whom were near relatives, with a few close friends, witnessed the ceremony and offered hearty congratulations at its close, after which dinner was served, the decorations of the two tables and all the rooms being of pink and white asters and cosmos.

The bride's table was centered with a mound of asters from the center of which rose the figure of a kneeling bride, daintily dressed in white.

After the delicious dinner Mr. and Mrs. Hallman were driven to Port Huron, their start being made in a shower of confetti and rice, which the company insisted was the proper thing to be endured by the newly married. A week's trip will be taken to Detroit, Niagara Falls and several other places and the new home will be made at Cross, where Rawley has a fine position in the drug-store of F. L. Owens.

The bride has lived all her life in Yale, one of our sweetest and best products. She is a graduate of our high school and for the past nearly three years has been a valued clerk in the postoffice. She will be missed from her place, also from the church and Sunday school of the Presbyterians, of which she was a constant and faithful member.

Rawley Hallman has spent the most of his life in our city, is a high school graduate and held a position in the Hennessy drug store until his country called him to service. After which he took a course in pharmacy and when finished, secured the position in Owosso.

The hosts of friends of both these popular young people have only the most sincere and best wishes for their life's welfare.

TWO NEW DEPARTMENTS

Added to Higer's Big Store in Port Huron—This Store is Old, But Still Growing

Port Huron's most progressive store, L. Higer & Son, is adding two new departments to their already large store. The third floor of the adjoining building has been acquired, giving additional space of approximately 1000 sq. feet. The wall has been cut down, allowing for access through the older part of the store.

Millinery and infants' wear are the new lines to be carried. A well known buyer from the east is going to have charge of the millinery which will be one of the finest and largest in the state. They are going to feature copies of Paris models that are adapted to American wear. The prices will be unusually low. The infants' wear department will carry an extensive line of everything that will be needed for the little ones.

L. Higer & Son have been in business for a good many years. They enjoy a reputation for square dealing in Port Huron and vicinity that is unparalleled. We feel assured that the new departments will enable them to serve the community even better than before.

A dozen Lapeer young men were out in the country melon-cooning, when the melon-owner, who was on the watch, fired his gun, the charge and the paper was embedded in the arm of Steve Phillips. The bone was badly shattered and it is feared the young man may lose the whole arm. It was a bad night's work all around.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTIES.

The Senior class of about 20 autoed out to the farm home of Helen King on Wednesday evening last week and enjoyed a splendid social evening.

They intended having a weenie and marshmallow roast out-of-doors, but the storm forbade and the inside looked pretty good to them.

Ice cream and cake were added to the menu by the hostess of the party and needless to say, touched the right spot.

The Juniors on the same evening took an auto ride down near Old Brockway, choosing the banks of Mill Creek for their roast and good time. But the storm coming up put a stop to the proceedings and we understand they had a bit of trouble keeping in the road on the way home.

The Sophomores, not to be outdone by the Seniors and Juniors, held a weenie and marshmallow roast on the banks of Mill Creek about three miles west of town, on Tuesday evening, September 21. The usual good time was had. Mr. and Mrs. James Rolls were in Port Huron Tuesday.

BRAVE ARCTIC COLD AND DANGERS TO OBTAIN PROPER SETS FOR BIG PLAY

Curwood Carver Co. Stages "Back to God's Country" in 52 deg. Below Storm Weather

Production of "Back to God's Country," by James Oliver Curwood, which will be shown at the Princess Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 5 and 6, was accomplished after two months of extreme hardship suffered by a company of sixteen principals.

The setting for the picture is laid in the Arctic regions and the great majority of the scenes were taken while the temperature hovered around the 52 degree below zero mark. Camera men suffered frost bitten hands the moment they took off their fur gloves. It was necessary to keep the cameras in action all the time in order to keep the emulsion on the film from freezing. It was necessary for all supplies for the company to be transported over barren lands of ice by dog teams.

Mr. Curwood, author of the story, was on location for three weeks. Fearing an attack of pneumonia, his friends forced him to leave against his wishes.

Mrs. Elliott, of Strathroy, was the guest of Mrs. John Wark the first of the week.

Fire Saturday Destroys Big Barn and Contents

FARM BUREAU NOTES

The St. Clair County Farm Bureau has received a communication from the M. A. C. urging extreme care in handling the potato crop where late blight has made its appearance. Where blight of the tops has occurred and soil conditions are dry enough to permit, it is advisable to wait two weeks after the tops are dead before digging the crop. Digging potatoes while the tops are green, where late blight appears, leads to infection of freshly dug tubers with spores from the diseased leaves. Such potatoes rot badly in storage. The crop should be kept in the ground until the tops are withered and dried completely, then if the potatoes are sorted carefully at digging time, using care to remove all distorted or partly rotten tubers, little trouble will probably be experienced during storage. In most cases, the blight outbreak has begun too late to seriously affect the yield this year, but will cause considerable loss in storage unless the above precaution is exercised regarding harvesting.

It was discovered about three o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Wilt had recently made many improvements on the building and it was one of the finest barns in that section.

MEETING OF PRESBYTERY

Flint Presbytery of the Presbyterian church convened in Crosswell on Monday and Tuesday of this week, giving the Crosswell church people a splendid opportunity for the dedication of their beautifully rebuilt structure.

A fine program was prepared for both evenings, which were very pleasing and largely attended. Music, addresses and edifying service for the community room and the church proper formed the nature of the entertainment. On Monday evening Elizabeth McCoil, of Yale, assisted as accompanist for a violin solo.

On Tuesday evening several Yale people drove up for the supper served by the Crosswell Presbyterian ladies and also stayed for the address given by Dr. Gantz of Westminster church, Detroit.

The supper was all that could be desired, abundant and satisfying. The evening service was delightful. A large vested choir of twenty voices, accompanied by violin and pipe organ, rendered inspiring music.

A few short talks, among them one by Rev. Alfred Martin, of Yale, were all interesting, and the address of the evening by Dr. Gantz was a masterly effort, appreciated by a very attentive audience.

The church building is a handsome, commodious structure. It is finished with stucco, stands on a corner and shows a pleasing effect. Crosswell people may well be proud of the efforts of its church people, for besides this new edifice the Methodists have a beautiful home built in 1914.

WORDS OF COMMENDATION.

Charles Bowles, of Detroit, a former Yale young man who has gone out into the world and is making good at his profession as an attorney, made the Expositor office force a short but pleasant call while in this city Saturday last. Among other matters spoken of he said: "I have just been over to Elmwood cemetery and I appreciate the splendid work the cemetery board is doing in fixing up the grounds so neatly and I desire to compliment those having the work in charge. It shows a progressive spirit on the part of Yale citizens, and all of us who have loved ones buried in this cemetery will consider it a pleasure to visit the spot which will become more beautiful as the years pass by."
